THE U. S. D. A. AZALEAS

A group of new varieties of this wonderful June-blooming hardy evergreen Azalea released by the United States Department of Agriculture. LINING-OUT STOCK

We sold more lining-out stock last spring than we ever sold any season before, this was in spite of the curtailed planting by most nurserymen. Some reasons for this, we believe, were: our reputation for furnishing good stock, our reasonable prices, and our assortment of stock. We do not believe any nurseryman is offering as large an assortment of varieties at as low prices. We are ideally located for producing this class of stock and always try to offer the new, worth while varieties as soon as we can.

If you have been getting your Lining-Out stock from us you know the kind of stock we furnish, but if you have never purchased any from us look through this list and try us out this season. Our business is 28 years old and we have always tried to give full value in all our orders.

Nearly all this stock has been one or more times transplanted. That which has not been is designated by the letter S which signifies that it is a seedling.

A NEW BOOK—AZALEAS AND CAMELLIAS

By H. H. HUME

Every point about growing both of these plants is carefully explained here—soils, time and method of planting, cultivation, mulching, pruning, frost protection, feeding, pot and tub culture, pests, diseases, and propagation. Its information holds good for every region where either plant is grown, outdoors or indoors. It describes 164 kinds of Azaleas, giving information on their color, type, time of bloom, foliage, growing habit, size, range of hardiness, and other characteristics. The method of growing and care of Azaleas applies the same to Rhododendrons.

Do not fail to get this book if you are interested in Azaleas, Rhododendrons and Camellias. Price $1.50 postpaid.

Taxus-Yew

We have always thought Yeys were one of the very best plants a nurseryman could grow, both for their landscape use and for the money in growing them. They are one of our best sellers and we have never been able to work up a surplus of them. No matter how many we grow we always sell them. You will see we have a very large collection and can furnish large quantities of some varieties.

Strawberry Plants

If the demand for Strawberry plants is as heavy this spring as it usually is there will undoubtedly be a shortage, due to the dry weather in so many plant growing sections. We see no reason why the demand will not be as heavy this season; strawberries paid well last season in most sections and we are looking for an increased demand. We have already booked orders for this spring delivery for almost as many plants as we sold during the entire season of 1934.

Let us take care of your strawberry plant orders this season. We have had 28 years growing and packing experience with strawberries. Our plants will give you and your customers satisfaction.

ABERDEEN. A very popular variety in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Fruit is medium to large, of conical shape, an attractive dark red, and of very good quality. Very profitable because of its hardiness, ability to fruit under most trying conditions, its productiveness and quality of fruit. Early midseason to late.

AROMA. This is one of the old reliable midseason to late varieties and extensively planted in many sections. Produces large crops of perfect shape light red berries with a bright green cap.

BIG JOE. In a list of the best five varieties you will most always find Big Joe. Ripens in midseason. Does well on most all types of soil; plant very vigorous, and very productive of large, bright red berries with a large green cap; good shipper and a good seller.

BELLMAR. A new early variety developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Earlier than Premier and stays on the vines well after getting ripe. A good dessert berry. Needs good soil and to keep thinned.

BLAKEMORE. Another early variety developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and we believe it the best of all the early berries where it does well. However, it does not seem to do as well as Premier in some sections. A cross between Premier and Missionary; a good plant maker; a heavy producer of bright red berries, ripening a little ahead of Missionary; bright green caps; medium to large, round to conical; firm and a good keeper and shipper.

CHESAPEAKE. This is the finest dessert berry of the late varieties and will keep better and sell at higher prices than any other late berry we know of. The fruit is large and handsome and will stay so until the end of the fruiting season. Berries are a rich, glossy red with bright yellow seed, have a large green cap and are very uniform size. Chesapeake is firm and will carry to the markets in the best of condition.

GANDY. Forty six years old and still good as an extra late berry if given a good fertile moist soil. The berries are strictly fancy, large, good quality, bright red with a large green cap. A good keeper and shipper.

We've been growing Strawberry plants these 28 years.

DORSETT. Another early berry developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The berries are medium light in color firm and of excellent flavor; in fact Dorsett and Fairfax are considered the two best flavored of all the early varieties. They are both good sellers bringing a premium over all other varieties in the markets. They are new varieties, good healthy growers, extra quality fruit, heavy producers, good sellers, and the demand for plants of these two varieties is probably the heaviest of any new variety ever introduced. A money maker for both grower and seller.

FAIRFAX. What we say above about Dorsett also applies to Fairfax with the difference in color of the fruit; Dorsett is a brighter red than Fairfax but seems to be equally as productive and as good grower. There is no doubt of the demand for plants of these two varieties and judging by past results the demand is going to keep up on account of the profit in growing the berries. Push Dorsett and Fairfax this season.

GIBSON. Another old standard midseason variety. Heavy fruiter of bright red berries with an attractive green cap; good for canning and preserving but does not carry well to distant markets.

GLEN MARY. In New York and the New England this variety is very popular but in some other sections it does not do well at all. The fruit is large. and dark red in color, midseason, good grower.

JOYCE. A new variety not yet well known but where it has been tried seems to do very well. We recommend it for an early midseason variety. Berries are large, of good color and excellent flavor customers who once try them want them again. Berries large.

LUPTON. One would not likely grow this variety if he was going to eat the fruit himself as it does not begin to have the quality of some of the others but it is very attractive and shows up so well when it arrives on the market that it most always brings the top prices and this is what the commercial grower is interested in. Good grower, late, attractive and sells well.

PREMIER. For a good many years this has been the best plant seller of them all, hence, has been a profitable one for the berry grower. Early, almost frost resistant, always producing good crops, attractive, good grower, productive, medium to large berries, and if not too wet at picking time a good shipper but if there is a lack of sunshine the berries do not keep well. In some sections they will not plant anything else for a crop of early berries. Plant it; sell it. We have the nicest lot of plants of Premier this season that we have ever grown and will appreciate your orders.

WM. BELT. This is one of the best flavored of the late berries. The berries are irregular in shape, fairly large, bright glossy red with a green cap. For the home garden or local market Wm. Belt is still good.

WYONA. This is the berry that will extend your season a week after Chesapeake and Gandy are through. Berries are large, bright red, firm and good shippers. Good grower and productive. For an extra late berry we recommend this one. Quality also is excellent.

MASTODON (Fall or Everbearing). These berries are now so generally known that it is hardy necessary to say much about them. Mastodon is recognized as being the best while Lucky Strike has its good points also, one of which is its spicy flavor. The foliage of Lucky Strike is not as healthy as is Mastodon but this does not seem to hinder its fruiting qualities. The demand for plants of these fallbearers seems to increase each year. We have already sold more plants for this spring delivery than we sold all told last season..
